Rights of Crime Victims and Witnesses

If you are a crime victim, a survivor of a crime, or a witness to a crime, the State of Washington provides that reasonable efforts be made to ensure you the following rights:

- 1. To be informed of the final outcome of the case.
- 2. To be notified of any scheduled changes in the court proceedings.
- 3. To receive protection from harm or threats of harm arising from your cooperation with law enforcement or prosecution.
- 4. To receive witness fees to which you are entitled.
- 5. To be provided, whenever practical, a secure waiting area during court proceedings, away from the defendant or the defendant's family.
- 6. To have any stolen or other property quickly returned by law enforcement or the superior court when it is no longer needed as evidence.
- 7. To have someone intervene with your employer if necessary when you are required to come to court.
- 8. To have access to immediate medical attention.
- 9. To have a crime victim advocate from a crime victim/witness program at any interviews.
- 10. To be present in court during trial if you are the victim or the survivor of a victim, after your testimony has been given and no further testimony is required.
- 11. To be informed of the date, time and location of the trial and, if requested, of the sentencing hearing in felony cases if you are the victim or the survivor of a victim.
- 12. To submit a victim impact statement to the court.
- 13. To present a statement personally or by representation at the sentencing hearing for felony convictions.
- 14. To have restitution ordered by the court in all felony cases, unless the court finds this inappropriate.

Rights of Child Victim and Witnesses

In addition to the rights that have been provided for all crime victims and witnesses, Washington law requires reasonable efforts be made to ensure the following rights for child victims and witnesses under the age of 18:

- 1. To have all legal proceedings and/or police investigations explained in language that can be easily understood by a child.
- 2. To have a crime victim advocate from a crime victim/witness program present at any interview.
- 3. To have, whenever practical, a secure waiting area provided for the child during court proceedings, and to have a support person or advocate stay with the child.
- 4. To not have the address or photographs of the child victim or witness disclosed by any law enforcement agency, prosecutor, defense counsel, or private or governmental agency involved in the case.
- 5. To allow the advocate to make recommendations about the ability of the child to cooperate with the prosecution and the potential effect of the proceeding on the child.
- 6. To allow the advocate to inform the court about the child's ability to understand the nature of the proceedings.
- 7. To provide information about social service agencies to assist the child and/or the child's family with the emotional impact of the crime, the investigation, and the judicial proceedings.
- 8. To allow the advocate to be present in court to provide emotional support to the child during testimony.
- 9. To inform the court as to the need to have other supportive persons present during the child's testimony.
- 10. To allow law enforcement agencies to enlist the assistance of other professional personnel such as Child Protective Services, victim advocates or prosecutor's staff trained in interviewing of child victims.

Domestic Violence Prevention Act
Victim's Rights

IF YOU ARE THE VICTIM OF DOMESTIC VIOLENCE, you may ask the city or county prosecuting attorney to file a criminal complaint. You also have the right to file a petition in Superior, District, or Municipal court requesting an order for protection from domestic abuse, which could include any of the following:

- (a) an order restraining your abuser from further acts of abuse;
- (b) an order directing your abuser to leave your household;
- (c) an order prohibiting your abuser from entering a residence, school, daycare, business or place of employment;
- (d) an order rewarding you or the other parent custody of, or visitation with, your minor children in your custody;
- (e) an order restraining your abuser from contacting, molesting or interfering with minor children in your custody.

The forms you need to obtain for a Protection Order are available in any Municipal, District or Superior court or at the King County Prosecuting Attorney's Protection Order Advocacy Program:
